Our New Stock Of Fine Mattings

Is now ready for you, and let us say right here that we never buy any but the best. No water-soaked or otherwise imperfect Mattings come into this store, as unless they're first-class when put on your floor, they'll be a constant source of trouble to you, and a reflection on us, even if we gave them to you free.

We believe the China Mattings to be the best for general wear, being heavier in their make-up than the Japanese Matting, although the latter have the advantage of them in their pretty carpet designs. Our 35 Jap Mattings are of very fine quality, in pretty colorings of Green, Red and Blue.

The China Mattings at the same price (33c) are extra heavy weight in red, green and blue stripes, blocks and small weaves, with a soft finish. Other fine values at 28c and 30c., in China Mattings, perfectly reversible, und in a large range of designs.

While we believe every one of our Mattings to be the best that money can ny for the prices asked, we really think you'll get more wear and satisfac-on out of the 33c China Matting than anything else you can get.

Handsome Druggets and Rugs.

$5.00 for strictly all-wool Ingrain Drugget of the best quality, in medal-llon and Oriental designs, 9x12 feet, in sociable in the Masonic Temple this evening supper will be served at 11 o'clock, guests being scated in parties of twelve at twenty-eight tables.

Twenty-four seats will be placed at the host's table in the center of the room, which will make the twenty-ninti. The dining hall and the three rooms adjoining have been thrown into one to make the necessary space for the tables and the company.

In the ball room the musicians' stand will be covered in white, grouped with flowers and Southern smilax and banked with evergreens. The square ante-room leading into the ball room will be also covered in white and decorated with palms and flowers. The stairway leading out of it will be canvased. Windows will be draped in white and fostooned with the slivery green of the smilax and running cedar. Mr. and Mrs. Crenshaw will stand just under an arch formed by an intertwining of blossom and follage to welcome their friends. The invited list of in-town and out-of-town guests includes:

Graham

By the author of Letters from a Self-Made Merchant to His Son. A new series of papers in which Old Man Graham preaches the gospel of good business and tells some of his characteristic stories. This Life Story of a Self-Made Merchant, by George Horace Lorimer, will be one of the features of coming issues of the magazine. The Letters from a Self-Made Merchant to His Son met with universal favor, and there is every reason to believe that the new series by the same author will be equally popular. In the new series old Graham tells the story of his own business career: how he began life as a farmer's boy, worked his way to the front and became the biggest pork packer in the West.

One of the party was Mr. Garrett A. Dobbins, southeastern passenger and freight agent of the Santa Fe, famea through the Southern country by his unique trade-mark, "Talk it over with Dobbins." This line appears at the extreme right corner of every advertisement inserted by the Santa Fe in the papears in this section, as a consequence of which Dobbins in a comparatively short time has become one of the best known railroad men in Atlanta.

J. B. Heyward, district passenger agent for the Atlanta, and West Point and the Western Railway of Alabama, better known as the West Point route, makes up the third member of the merry party. This road forms the connecting link for the Southern from Atlanta to New Orleans, and enjoys the distinction of using the four largest passenger engines in the South, which have won for the company the honor of running the fastest and best exulpped trains in this section.

W. A. Smith, advertising agent for the Southern, with headquarters in Washington, was in the city yesterday.

Captain Westbury, district passenger egent for the Southern, has recently installed in his office on Main Street what is probably the nandsomest ticket rack in the city. It not only adds beauty to the general appearance os the office, but will, prove a much needed convenience.

LAUNCH TO SAVE MEN WHO FALL FROM BRIDGE

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Men employed on the river span of the new Williamsburg bridge, which extends on either side over the river, will in a few days petition the Pennsylvania Steel Company to provide a steam launch to be stationed during working hours near the Williamsburg tower.

About a week ago one of the workmen fell from the structure into the river. The men say that had a steam launch been cruising about the body could have been picked up. It has not yet been found.
